SECURITY IN ZAMBIA

The Secretariat of the Organizing Committee in Zambia will collaborate with protocol and police and security services to ensure security during the Summit at the venues and designated hotels where delegates will be staying will be well secured. Zambia is a safe country and Delegates should not expect any threats to their safety. However, they should exercise reasonable caution, especially during the late hours. Because of the large number of participants, delegates are encouraged to take care of their belongings while the summit is in progress.

Zambia is considered to be a safe country compared to others. While violent crime rates are relatively low, it is important to remain cautious to avoid petty crime. As an international participant, it is important to exercise caution and adhere to any security advice provided by the AYSDGSS 2023 organizers, even in a peaceful and secure country like Zambia. It is advised not to leave personal belongings such as bags, cell phones or laptops unattended, and to avoid carrying large amounts of cash. It is mandatory to carry some form of identification with you at all times, a copy of your passport usually suffices.

Participants are required to follow advice and guidance from ushers, security officers and protocol staff. Within the Kenneth Kaunda Wing of the Mulungushi International Conference Centre complex, there will be some restrictions on movements at times when high level delegates are in the building. The Zambia Police Service will enforce controls over access to restricted areas. Delegates must cooperate and follow the directives and advice of Security Services Personnel in all circumstances.

Access into the Conference Centre will be highly restricted to delegates having the appropriate access security badges. Hence, all delegates are required to be accredited.

N.B: JOURNALISTS SHOULD ARRIVE AT THE SUMMIT VENUE AT LEAST AN HOUR AND HALF BEFORE THE MEETINGS COMMENCE
The African Youth SDGs Summit is the largest pan-African forum that connects the youth in Africa to learn about the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and to empower them to contribute actively in its implementation, monitoring and accountability. Launched by Youth Advocates Ghana (YAG) with support from UNDP Ghana, UNFPA Ghana and other local and international organisations, the summit has witnessed consistent growth of interest and importance since its inception in 2017 among youth and youth-related organisations, civil society, development partners, the UN System, state actors, policy makers, local governments, and the private sector in Africa.

The Summit has evolved to become an important multi-stakeholder platform with focus on young people and their roles in achieving SDG Targets. Over the last five years in the life of the summit, the summit has attracted about 10,000 youth and other stakeholders to deliberate on critical issues affecting the achievement of SDGs. From the interactions of the previous summits held in Accra, Ghana and Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, it was evident that the youth of Africa have become increasingly visible and effectively active in influencing national policy with new ideas, philosophies and technological expertise if adequate space is created for them. They have the capacity to bring fresh perspectives to the present development approach, while through critical thinking, innovation, and their own style of communication, they can drive changes in their communities and countries.

After hosting three Summits in Ghana, in 2022 the Secretariat successfully hosted the 4th African Youth SDGs Summit 2022 in Addis Ababa Ethiopia, following recommendations and outcomes from the 3rd African Youth SDGs Summit to develop the Summit into an annually rotating convention to maximize the inclusion and participation of the Africa Youth from across the continent and beyond. This sustainability of this will require a commitment to a long-term vision of the future, alongside building linkages across the continent.

Furthermore, the 5th Edition of the African Youth SDGs Summit 2023 will be hosted in Lusaka, Zambia in collaboration with local organizing partners Alliance for Accountability Advocates Zambia and 2nd Door and other cooperation partners.
The 5TH AYSDDGSS2023 will take place at the Mulungushi International Conference Centre (MICC) Lusaka Zambia (physically + virtually)
